

This side of this piece of paper has the incredible cheek to call itself the seventh issue of the Sooper Dooper Pooper Scooper , and will probably be the last separate issue.

Without further ado let's get down to the games:

GOG 3 Youngstown Autumn 1912

I have decided that this game is now over - last season there were two NMR's, this season France (Phil Murphy), England (Michel Feron) and Japan (Dave Brown) have all missed the deadline. This state of affairs is not at all satisfactory, it not only makes gm'ing tedious it also makes a mockery of the achievements of the other players, I am not going to adjudicate this season's moves until next issue - because Andy has virtually won the game, and I'm sure he'd like to have a full set of orders for the last season.

DEADLINE :- Friday 17th October 1975.

Ahem! I appear to have run out of staples which means that this issue may appear rather disjointed.

Time for a Space-filler----

..... Damn! I've run out of "Reader's Digest".....

Hello teenies everywhere. Here is Uncle Peter in his favourite old gray mac, and his boiled sweeties at the ready, come to tell you another episode of your favourite bedtime story, SATELITE.....
 GMed and typed by Pete Lindsay of 20, Bloomfield Close, Taunton, Somerset. And incompetently printed by "whispering" Dave Allen who didn't quite manage to get a copy of TN to me last time, so I only learned the deadline on Wednesday when I 'phoned him (hence "whispering" as anyone who 'phones Dave will know....)

THE GAME

For omce Nothing is happening, no NMR, no stupid questions, no rule amandments, no.....oh sod it!

NASA reports

France has joined the space race with orbiter F-1, Japan has launched J-2,3,&4

Money Matters

I am passing on subs from Tony Sturt, and a joint sub from Pete Grimoldby & Gavin Probert (because the both live in Pitminster they only get one copy between them.....Interesting isn't it...)and Graham Buckell paid up direct to Dave. I assume that Howell and Wink already subscribe to TN.

NEWS Your GM's shaky future

As I mentioned last time I've been in St.Andrews for resits..... I spent four and a half weeks flogging chemistry for the exams and still failed (The card arrived with the orders this morning). Unfortuneatly this means that I am going to have to repeat 2nd year and more unfortuneatly still, that the County Council will not be giving me any money this year, ie I am going to be BROKE. If, as a result, I have to cut back on my diplomacy SATELITE will be the last to go, and only if my bank balance heads towards three red figures. Luckily this is not likely to happen before next January, so no need to worry for now. Infact it is quite possible that thi s lack of money will not affect me to much since I have not heard anything from the University about where I am to live next year....perhaps they are trying to tell me something!

As I also recieved a DHSS giro cheque with the post this morning I'll finish now and trot down to the sub-post office, cash the cheque, post this stencil, then go and get pissed by way of celebration

((Whispering Dave Allen..... you'll pay for that. I hope you'll be able to get through the next year without too much trouble.))

MU4 parliament Year Three

The Silly Party has remade its budget as follows:-	4
	4
GOVT POINTS (Prospective)	6 14
Silly Party - 36	4
	5
Conservatives - 32	5 14
Black Shirts - 32	4

I already have votes from the Silly Party and Black Shirts, if I could have votes from the rest of you by Friday 3rd October 1975

it would enable us to avoid having the thinking parts of the next election at Christmas time. Speaking of elections, a new party has been formed, to wit - the Nationalists led by none other than Roger Ayre (4, Canterbury Way, JARROW, Tyne & Wier) they will 'control' the seventh region, and shall be able to stand in, the next election.....
