Clouds may hem Len in as they continue to blow towards airfield #5 next time. Apologies for delay in getting this out. Easter weekend came and went, and I realised the deadline had passed, then I was unable to squeeze it in during the next few nights. While I'd really like to get your orders in by the main deadline of 1st May, I can be persuaded to delay it until the Tuesday post. If the game is still running by the end of UTW (issue 13/14) I'll declare you joint survivors, and say the war is over!
