Dear All

Sorry about the lateness of Winter Retreat.

The end of this month has been so busy that i've not had time to think, let alone sit down and get the zine out.

Starting work filled most of my free time, I had a tax return to get in before 30th September. On top of all these things my brother died last weekend, and everything has taken a back seat.

I'm also waiting for Keith Smith to send me details of games which he is passing me from Who Me? which about to fold. I won't hang on until that happens though.

I also think I may have mislaid some people's orders is the confusion that resembles my life at the moment. In the circumstances I thought it best to set a new deadline, just to clear the air, and take it from there.

NEW DEADLINE - FRIDAY 16th OCTOBER.

Yours,

Matt.
